Colleagues,

I thank you for your advice and actions with respect to the Gallo School Proposal and for your understanding of the need to have a broader campus dialog about campus growth. Speaking for the administration, our efforts to develop robust and predictable campus planning processes are ongoing, but a clear focus on growth of new schools and programs in order to sustain and promote the programs we already have will be our top priority this year. I look forward to our dialog going forward.

I also recognize how difficult this process has been for the faculty across campus. I promise to keep in mind that the campus must address the tensions this process has revealed. I will work with Senate leadership, the deans, and staff to ensure that how we engage in this dialog helps us build our community.

Gregg
